DECLARATION OF MARK LANGERMAN

I, Mark Langerman, declare the following to be true and correct:

1. I serve as Chief of the Office of Security Review (OSR) of the Department of Defense (DoD). I have held this position since January 2004. This declaration is based on my personal knowledge and information provided to me in my official capacity.

2. On August 3, 2012, Plaintiff Anthony Shaffer submitted to OSR a request for a formal security review of his Operation Dark Heart manuscript. A copy of his request is attached as Exhibit 1. My office coordinated the U.S. Government's updated review of the manuscript, and approximately 234 passages were found to still contain classified information.

3. I attempted to schedule a meeting with Mr. Shaffer by letter dated September 11, 2012, and Mr. Darrell Walker of my office sent a follow-up letter on September 16, 2012. Those two letters are attached as Exhibits 2 and 3. The meeting was originally scheduled for September 26, 2012, but per Mr. Shaffer's request, was eventually held on October 17, 2012. Ms. Beth Fitzgibbons of my office was in attendance, as well as other DoD personnel involved in the review. Mr. Shaffer was afforded the opportunity to meet with government officials to discuss revisions to his manuscript and agree on unclassified substitute language. He was also afforded the opportunity to present any relevant, publicly available, or open source materials showing that classified information had been officially released to the public or otherwise properly declassified.

4. During this review process, Mr. Shaffer challenged the finding that 18 passages contained classified information because, he claimed, this information had been officially released in his prepared testimony to Congress during the ABLE DANGER hearings in February 2006. He further claimed that DoD had cleared his prepared testimony before he testified in those hearings.

5. Mr. Shaffer did submit his prepared ABLE DANGER testimony to OSR for review, but the testimony was never cleared. Our records indicate that Mr. Shaffer's submission was received on or about September 20, 2005. However, there is no record indicating that a determination of any kind was issued, nor has Mr. Shaffer been able to produce a DD Form 1790 signed by an authorized Government official in accordance with then-current DoD Directive 5400.4, Provision of Information to Congress (Jan. 30, 1978). To the contrary, Mr. Shaffer filed a lawsuit against DoD in this Court, alleging that DoD had failed to issue a determination and asking the Court to order DoD to clear the testimony. See Shaffer, et al. v. DIA, et al., 601 F. Supp. 2d 16 (D.D.C. 2009).

6. Mr. Shaffer challenged the classification finding of additional passages, claiming that the information in those passages was obtained from the narrative supporting his Bronze Star Medal (BSM) award. It was determined that five passages contained information appearing in the one-page BSM narrative, but found no records indicating that the narrative was ever officially released.

7. At the October 17 meeting, Mr. Shaffer was told that he could provide at a later date other open source materials that he contended supported the information in his book. He provided via email various general references to those materials on December 10, 2012.

8. By letter dated December 19, 2012, I informed Mr. Shaffer that, by providing a list of publications without identifying specific information in those publications, his submission was too general and did not allow the pertinent agencies to conduct a meaningful review of the submitted material. I asked him to supplement the submission with pinpoint citations to the relevant page numbers of the material he submitted. I also asked him to provide materials in support of his argument that the BSM narrative had been officially released. A copy of that letter is attached as Exhibit 4.

9. Mr. Shaffer responded by letter dated December 20, 2012. His response did not include specific citations to pages in the materials he had previously submitted. A copy of his response is attached as Exhibit 5.

10. OSR's updated review was completed on January 18, 2013, when I notified Mr. Shaffer of the results via letter. The letter informed Mr. Shaffer that the Government had determined that certain information had been properly declassified and that other information remained properly classified. The letter further explained that the Government had considered Mr. Shaffer's arguments concerning open source documents, and determined that he had not shown that the information had been officially released.

A spreadsheet listing all relevant passages was enclosed. Copies of that letter and spreadsheet are attached as Exhibit 6.

I declare under penalty of perjury pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746 that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on: April 26, 2013.

Subject: Request for Formal Security Review and Clearance of Manuscript: Operation DARK HEART: Spycraft and Special Ops on the Frontlines of Afghanistan and the path to Victory

1. We are preparing to have a new edition of Operation DARK HEART translated into Turkish and other languages.
2. In its Reply in Support of Motion to Dismiss Plaintiff's First Amended Complaint at 6 fn. 1 (filed June 29, 2012), filed as part of Shaffer v. Defense Intelligence Agency et al., Civil Action No. 10-2119 (D.D.C.), the Department of Defense asserted that it did not accept that the submission of my manuscript through my Army Reserve chain-of-command was proper. Rather, it noted that submission should have been to the Department of Defense Office of Security Review.
3. In light of that position, therefore, and pursuant to DoD Instruction 5230.29 (January 8, 2009), I respectfully request the Department of Defense Office of Security Review formally conduct a classification review of the Operation DARK HEART manuscript. Please note that my submission does not constitute in any way an admission or concession that the Department's view is correct.
4. As the original manuscript was determined to contain classified information when reviewed in August 2010, I am not in a position to supply an unredacted copy. However, your office should still be in possession of an unredacted copy and I trust it is not incumbent upon me to make other arrangements. If that is not the case, I ask that you contact my attorney Mark S. Zaid, Esq., at Mark@MarkZaid.com or (202) 498-0011 to coordinate the necessary arrangements.
5. Please complete your review no later than thirty (30) working days following receipt of this request. Any delay beyond that date may result in the filing of a legal challenge before the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia.

Re: Request for Prepublication Review of Operation Dark Heart Manuscript

Dear Colonel Shaffer:

In connection with the referenced submission dated August 3, 2012, the U.S. Government is conducting an updated review of your Operation Dark Heart manuscript. This process requires, as you may be aware, coordination with agencies within and outside the Department of Defense. If the manuscript is found to still contain classified information, someone from our office will contact you by September 17 to arrange a meeting.

The meeting's purpose will be to discuss the revisions that may be required and any unclassified substitute language that you are prepared to present. You will also have the opportunity at the meeting to present any relevant, publicly available, or open source materials showing that classified information has been officially released to the public or otherwise properly declassified. This will assist with completing the classification review. Once the agencies have given full consideration to those materials, we will issue a final determination, which you may appeal in accordance with DoD Instruction 5230.29, Security and Policy Review of DoD Information for Public Release (Jan. 8, 2009).

If you have any questions, please contact Mr. Darrell Walker at (703) 614-4913 or darrell.walker@whs.mil.

Re: Request for Prepublication Review of Operation Dark Heart Manuscript

Dear Colonel Shaffer:

In connection with the referenced review, on December 10, 2012, you submitted references to open source materials to show that certain information has been officially released to the public or otherwise properly declassified. By providing a list of publications without identifying specific information in those publications, your submission is too general and does not allow the pertinent agencies to conduct a meaningful review of the submitted material. We therefore ask that you supplement the submission with pinpoint citations, including specific reference to the relevant page numbers. Additionally, we ask that you provide any materials showing that your Bronze Star Medal narrative has been officially released.

Please complete these supplemental submissions by January 4. The agencies will give prompt consideration to those materials, and we will issue a final determination shortly thereafter.

We remain committed to this collaborative effort of producing an unclassified version of your manuscript. If you need additional time or have any questions, contact Mr. Darrell Walker at (703) 614-4913 or darrell.walker@whs.mil.

20 December 2012

Mr. Mark M. Langerman

I am in receipt of your letter dated 19 December 2012 regarding the ongoing re-review of my book Operation DARK HEART. You wrote:

In connection with the referenced review, on December 10, 2012, you submitted references to open source materials to show that certain information has been officially released to the public or otherwise properly declassified. By providing a list of publications without identifying specific information in those publications, your submission is too general and does not allow the pertinent agencies to conduct a meaningful review of the submitted material. We therefore ask that you supplement the submission with pinpoint citations, including specific reference to the relevant page numbers.

While I want to completely cooperate with your office in facilitating the review process, candidly I am surprised by your response. During my last face-to-face session with your team at Bolling AFB (DIA Hqs) on 17 October 2012 we discussed at length the text in question that corresponded with publicly released information. The members of your team who participated in that meeting took detailed notes regarding these discussions and I identified for them the specific text in question and what the public source information was that I relied upon for my book.

I was understandably requested to forward to your team the references or documents to which I referred and identified as supportive of the redacted "classified" text. As I promised I would, I did so on 10 December 2012. I obviously did not retain any detailed notes from the meeting other than to note the open source reference or document that would be matched to the area or item in Operation DARK HEART that the Government continues to claim are "classified". It was my understanding that the material I provided would be matched to the specific areas of my book that remain in contention based on the discussions we had at the meeting.

Given that the Government continues to assert the redacted portions of Operation DARK HEART is "classified" I am not permitted to retain a copy of the unredacted book. Since I do not have access I obviously cannot pinpoint any specific text to the public source information as I cannot understandably recall what lies underneath each particular redaction. But, again, it was my understanding from the meeting that your team would do that based on the conversation we engaged in and the detailed notes they took.

You also requested that I "provide any materials showing that your Bronze Star Medal narrative has been officially released." This narrative was a personal document given to me as part of my award of the Bronze Star Medal (BSM). More importantly, a copy was provided to both the United States Senate and House of Representatives as part of the ABLE DANGER congressional hearings held in 2005 and 2006. The testimony and information I supplied, which included my Bronze Star Medal narrative, was provided in advance to Darryl Walker and his team as part of my preparations for the hearings that I participated in on 14 and 15 February 2006 in front of two committees (the House Government Reform and House Armed Services) to provide testimony. Respectfully, it is unclear what more you need from me on this matter beyond that.

I have very much appreciated the level of cooperation I have received during this second review process of my book. Frankly, it was far more productive than the one we held in 2010 and I am happy to work with your team to resolve any remaining concerns the Government still holds. But unless I come back in to review the "classified" version of my book to yet again go over the text, which I would hope would not need to be repeated, I believe the proverbial ball is in your court now.

I look forward to your response and suggested course of action.

V/R

Tony Shaffer

Re: Request for Prepublication Review of Operation Dark Heart Manuscript

Dear Colonel Shaffer:

On August 3, 2012, you submitted a request for a formal security review of your Operation Dark Heart manuscript pursuant to Department of Defense (DoD) Instruction 5230.29, Security and Policy Review of DoD Information for Public Release (Jan. 8, 2009). The request stated that you intend to have new editions of the book published in Turkish and other languages.

The U.S. Government has completed its security review of the manuscript, including the 433 passages that were redacted from the Thomas Dunne Books/St. Martin's Press edition of September 2010. The Government determined that information contained in 198 of the redacted passages has been properly declassified in accordance with Executive Order 13526. The other redacted passages, however, were found to contain classified information.

On October 17, 2012, you met with DoD personnel with the common goal of producing an unclassified version of the book. You received temporary clearance to access the unredacted manuscript and discuss each passage at issue, line by line. The discussion included consideration of unclassified substitute language that our personnel suggested for various passages, and open source materials that you presented to show that certain classified information had been officially released to the public or otherwise properly declassified. As a result, we were able to reach resolution on a large majority of the passages. You accepted the classification status of 212 passages, agreeing to replace 73 of them with our suggested substitute language and delete altogether the other 139.

Only 23 passages remained unresolved after the meeting, as you asked for time to gather and submit additional open source materials showing the official release of the two specific pieces of information relevant to these passages. You mentioned that the first piece of information, contained in 18 passages, was released during congressional hearings; the second piece of information, contained in five passages, was obtained from the narrative supporting your Bronze Star Medal (BSM) award in 2004. You added, though, that you would agree to delete the passages if upon review of the materials, we ultimately found the information to remain classified.

On December 10, 2012, you submitted the source materials, which included Internet links, titles of certain publications, and copies of several personnel documents in your possession. Because the submission failed to identify the specific relevant information in the publications, I wrote to you on December 19 and asked you to supplement the submission by January 4 with pinpoint citations to the relevant page numbers. I also asked you to provide any other materials showing that your BSM narrative has been officially released.

You responded on December 20, 2012, asserting that you were unable to provide pinpoint citations to the source materials because you did not have access to the unredacted manuscript. It was your understanding that our personnel would be responsible for matching your source materials to the passages still in contention. With respect to the BSM narrative, you asserted that it was a personal document given to you as part of your award and that you had personally supplied copies to Congress in connection with the ABLE DANGER hearings. You further asserted that prior to testifying in those hearings, you had provided to my office your prepared testimony and the narrative for clearance. Concluding that nothing more was needed (“Respectfully, it is unclear what more you need from me on this matter beyond that,” you stated), you chose not to supplement your December 10 submission.

In any event, none of the source materials show a relevant official release of any kind. The Internet links do not lead to congressional testimony by Government officials, and the information at issue does not appear in any of the personnel documents. Moreover, while you did submit your prepared testimony for review prior to testifying in the ABLE DANGER hearings, the testimony was never cleared for public release and neither was the BSM narrative. The Government’s determination must therefore stand, and the 23 passages must be deleted prior to publication.

Accordingly, Operation Dark Heart is CLEARED AS AMENDED for public release. This determination is based on the text of the September 2010 edition of the book. The enclosed spreadsheet—which lists the 433 redacted passages, identified by the page and line numbers where they appear in that edition—provides the agreed upon amendments for each classified passage (i.e., deletion or the specific substitute language) and the unredacted text for each passage that has been declassified. The publication also must include the following disclaimer: “The views expressed are those of the author and do not reflect the official policy or position of the Department of Defense of the U.S. Government.” All amendments are binding.

To avoid public disclosure of classified information, we remind you that all paper and electronic copies of classified documents that might be in your possession, such as the unredacted manuscript, the Bronze Star Medal narrative, and your deployment orders to Afghanistan, must be destroyed.

If you have any questions, please contact Mr. Darrell Walker at (703) 614-4913 or darrell.walker@whs.mil.
